DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of Group II (method of making footwear) in the reply filed on Dec. 1, 2004 is acknowledged. In view of applicant amendment to claims 30-38, claims 12-44 will be examined.
2. Claims 1-11 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on Dec. 1, 2004.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

3. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.
4. Claims 31-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 31,32 and 35 it is not clear what applicant means by "positioning the first portion of the first layer outside the boundaries of the first incision", "within boundaries of the first incision" and "positioning the second incision within boundaries of the first incision".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

6. Claim 39 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US 6140602 (Costin).

Costin teaches a method for manufacturing an article of footwear as claimed including forming an incision (etching) in the stratified material with a laser to expose the interior portion; see col. 5, line 39 to col. 6, line 26. The material has different properties (i.e. color); see col. 6, lines 1-4.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

8. Claims 12-44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Costin '602 in view of WO 00/46045 (Gray).

Costin teaches a method of making footwear as claimed (see the rejection above) except for the material of the footwear upper having two layers. Costin teaches the method can be used in footwear and in automotive industry (e.g. vehicle interior); see col. 6, lines 20-26. Gray teaches the same method of laser etching to form a design in a material but also teaches that at least two layer can be used; see page 3, line 28 to page 7, line 24. Gray teaches the method of laser etching has many applications including the automotive industry (e.g. vehicle trim) and other applications where such an aesthetic appearance or function is desired; see page 6, lines 16-20. It would have been obvious to provide the method of making the footwear of Costin with the fabric of the upper having at least two layers, as taught by Gray, to provide more of an aesthetic design. Regarding having a third layer, Gray teaches two or more layers; see page 4, lines 24-26. Therefore, it would be obvious to provide the method of making the footwear as taught above to have a third layer, as taught by Gray, to provide an even more aesthetic design. Regarding to including the step of applying heat and pressure to bond the layers together, the examiner takes official notice that it is old and conventional in the art to join layers together by applying heat and pressure.

Conclusion

9. Applicant is duly reminded that a complete response must satisfy the requirements of 37 C.F. R. 1.111, including:

-“The reply must present arguments pointing out the specific distinctions believed to render the claims, including any newly presented claims, patentable over any applied references.”

--“A general allegation that the claims define a patentable invention without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references does not comply with the requirements of this section.”

-Moreover, “The prompt development of a clear issue requires that the replies of the applicant meet the objections to and rejections of the claims. Applicant should also specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See MPEP 2163.06” MPEP 714.02. The “disclosure” includes the claims, the specification and the drawings.
